

Student Travel

Contributed by admin
Tuesday, 08 August 2006

Posted by: blog

Make full use of student travel airfare: Planning student travel airfare is amazing experience. Before you travel, do some students travel planning, which is of course a good idea. Do some roundups on Student Travel 101. Early plan for student travel has the advantage to get the tickets with discounted price in particularly in season date. In fact student vacations are invariable in time, it comes in the peak travel periods for which early preparation some how not possible. So the family should take the responsibility to get a chance to travel along with their children.

Don't worry for your hurry. Yes there is internet. You can access several sites who deal with student travel. The famous specialized sites like Student Universe, STA and Travel Cuts. If you will access these sites, you have to follow some basic registration facilities for your travel in best rates. International Student Identity Card is necessary for the STA and Travel Cuts sites which you have to buy. But college e-mail ID will be sufficient for the Student Universe for their legal verification that you are required to provide. Again travel sites like Orbitz also specialize in student travel, and this site also offers air tickets in special rates to the students. These sites also provide general discounted fares to students which will suit with your budget. For international travel, the discounts are much better for the students. Even good general discounts are there in most airlines for students than to the general traveler. Even you will find accommodation of changing dates, low cancellation fee charges. So you must visit both student and airline sites and also travel sites that provide student tickets. In fact there is chance for you to save several hundreds of dollars, if you booked early.